As you think back over your life, have you ever known a person that really seemed to have purpose in a way most others didn't/don't?

What was special about him/her?

Any idea who they became that way (were they just naturally driven, extra spiritual, etc.)?

Do you feel you have purpose in life? (This is the time for honesty, not the Sunday School answer we know to be correct).

Which image that Rob discussed inspired you the most?

Co-worker with God

Reconciled Reconciler

Light of the World

Salt of the World

Fruitful fruit

Witness

Reminder of and Representation of God's presence

What is your "new purpose" that God wants you to live into more this week?

How might your life, family, neighborhood, the world be different if you live out God's purpose for you?

What is your greatest obstacle (ignorance, inertia, fear, spiritual matter)?

Share and prayer
