

Questions for Conversations

12.12.21

Just a reminder that these are offered as possible conversations prompts. There is no expectation that all of the questions be answered or that conversations stay within the confines of what follows

What has been your moment of greatest joy so far in your life? (Don't spend too much time thinking about it. Probably the first thing in your mind is the real answer)

How did the homework go last week (no complaining)?

How has God been speaking to you recently? What has he been saying?

Or any particular observations or questions from the message this week?

Would you consider yourself a joyful person? Why or why not?

Would others agree with your estimation?

Did you agree with the idea that God has joy or takes delight? Why or why not?

If you have not thought about it much, how might that change your view of God, or your view of yourself?

When have you treasured something joyous recently?

What was the last joyful news that you shared?

How can focusing on the fact that God is Emmanuel, God with us, assist in your joy-quotient?
