What would it take, or how might you go about being or becoming

- a person who gets someone around you to the place in their life where their transformation can occur.
- a person who sees the need around you.
- a person who expects to receive.
- a person who strives to walk in the power of the Spirit.
- a person who gives what you have away.
- a person who rejoices with those who are rejoicing (being held onto as they rejoice)
- a person who sees the opportunity to share the good news of Jesus whether in word or deed or both and take it?
