WARNING: These are the questions I asked during the message and are a little “in your face.”

How is the consecration going (v1)?

Do you crave spiritual food?

Are you growing up (not just getting older)?

Since you have experienced the goodness of God, do you come to him? How? How often? For what purpose?

How and to what extend have you been rejected like Christ? What does this suggest about how closely we have associated ourselves with him?

How is the building coming along? How established do you feel on Christ? How is your connection to other Christians?

How well are we being a community of priests - presenting God to those around us? Bringing spiritual sacrifices to God?

When was the last time your spiritual offering was costly? In what way was it costly?

How well do we value what God does? How do you know?

How well are we living out being a chosen people?

A royal priesthood?

A holy nation?

God's possession?

How well are we proclaiming the praises his works (to him and the world)?

How much are we living like we have been transformed?

How can we as a group help each other

Repent?

Regulate?

Reflect?
