

Questions for Conversations

011424

Just a reminder: these questions are always offered as conversation fodder. There is not expectation that all (or necessarily any) questions are addressed.

How has God been speaking to you lately? Where have you “seen” God recently?

What questions do you have about this week’s message?

What memories of loneliness do you have?

When have you felt most disconnected from others?

How have you experienced (how does it manifest) the painful ache for intimate connection, belonging, and friendship?

What images from the Bible convey the most amount of intimacy to you?

What do you think about Rob’s idea that friendship with the friend of sinners is a radical idea? Is he on to something or making too much of it?

Share and prayer.
